Protesting the segregated and unequal summer school program for teachers established by the University of Maryland at Douglass High School, Baltimore, these NAACP pickets are part of the marchers who succeeded in limiting the enrollment to only two students. They are, left to right, Douglas Camper, Miss Mary Lou Camper, Charles Reid and Mrs. Ida Washington.